ANDREWS WARS ON WET BLOC

KEEP OFF YANK U. S. TELLS TURK PARLEY

Backs Open Door; Oil Fight On.

LAUSANNE, April 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Safeguarding of the national interests of the United States and of the principle of equal commercial opportunity for all nations was officially set forth today as the guiding line of the American representatives when the near east peace conference resumed its labors in an endeavor to restore peace between the allied powers and Turkey and between Greece and Turkey.

Joseph C. Grew, American minister to Switzerland, and head of the delegation, made this clear in a brief inaugural speech following similar addresses by leaders of the other delegations. The conference then divided itself into three committees, each of which will take up subjects in dispute, and tomorrow active discussions on concrete topics will be begun.

Expects Stable Peace.
Minister Grew said the United States expected the resumption of the conference, which had reconvened on a substantial basis; an understanding had been reached on a variety of important subjects, and upon this firm foundation the United States expected soon to see erected that edifice of a just and stable peace for which the world was waiting with eagerness. Of the position of the American representatives he said:

"We are here for the same purpose, and in the same capacity as before the outbreak of the war, to secure the restoration of a just and stable peace for which the world was waiting with eagerness."

Whether the general subject of conference comes before the conference finally seems to depend on the success of direct negotiations between British and French concession holders and the Turkish government, which was advised by the allies when they agreed to detach economic questions from the treaty. France, it is believed, will probably insist on the status accorded her in 1914 by the former Turkish government; and the British delegation has let it be known that it will support the French claim in the event the issue is brought before the conference.

Development indicates that soviet Russia will decline to be eliminated as a factor in the present negotiations, and will insist on having something to say, as one of the states invited to the original conference.

CALLS FRANCE WARLIKE

LONDON, April 23.—Under a page one headline, "Is France Out for War?" the Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon repeats in substance my dispatch to THE TRIBUNE last Friday on the French policy in the near east.

The Pall Mall Gazette points to the appointment of Gen. Weygand as commander of the French in Syria as a sign that France means to engage in serious warfare with the Turks if she cannot get her own way in any other manner, and definitely states that Gen. Weygand accepted the appointment on the condition that he would receive all the reinforcements he required.

The Pall Mall Gazette also calls attention to Marshal Foch's visit to Belgrade and Belgrade, where the French alliances are being strengthened, as evidence that France is preparing for war with Turkey, and recalls the fact that Marshal Foch and Gen. Weygand had worked out a plan for the defense of Constantinople and the Bosphorus.

The Pall Mall Gazette also definitely states that Roumania and Serbia have sold large quantities of arms to Greece, and are purchasing replacements from France on exceedingly easy terms.

France, Warsaw, Turkey.

PARIS, April 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—A warlike warning was given Turkey today by the semi-official newspaper Temps in an editorial discussing the difficulties confronting the Lausanne peace conference, including the French objection to the concessions recently granted an American syndicate by the Turks.

$250,000 DAMAGE AT FIRE IN HEART OF STOCKYARDS

Fire which called attention to all parts of the city early this morning swept a four-story meat house formerly occupied by the general offices of Morris & Co. at 42d and Loomis streets. The actual fire loss was estimated at $250,000 but damage from smoke and water to a large supply of fresh meat was variously estimated at from $250,000 to $500,000.

The fire broke out about 10:30 o'clock and a 4-11 alarm was sounded because of the proximity of other large meat storage houses. At midnight it was thought to be under control and many of the fire companies left. The flames broke out again shortly after 1 o'clock and Chief Arthur R. Seyferlich took personal charge of the firemen, sending out numerous special calls for apparatus that brought engines from all parts of the city.

The fire was mainly in the fourth story which was used as a storage room for records and advertising matter.

Two firemen were slightly burned when they were struck by a sheet of flame which burst upon them as they opened a door on the fourth floor.

And the calf-rack gauntlet proved a nerve-racking experience for the young bride, for at last she pushed her way through the crowd of men and women, burst suddenly into tears as she entered the calf-rack, and with many automobiles, tooting loudly, in the van and wake, started up the thoroughfare.

Young Mr. Norris patted her reassuringly in the crisis as his uncertainty footing on the sea-going dory would permit, and she laid her head, although it slipped about a bit, on his shoulder.

Up the main streets through the aisles of townfolk the procession slowly went while hundreds of just plain kids pounded out on varied discarded utensils of the cooking art an incessant, vociferous, and beseeching charivari. Down and back again to the same tune.

Young Mrs. Norris was laughing again when they descended from the calf wagon and boarded an automobile, and then it became apparent that something had almost been forgotten—the kids. "Here they come!" went the piping, high pitched cry as the youngsters swept about the street. At every corner they were joined by more and more until the cry became a constant exultant refrain: "Here they come!" Ice cream and candy and fruits and

DELLORA RIDES IN BRIDAL CALF CART

Tradition in St. Charles demands that a newly-wed couple be driven around town in the old calf-wagon. It has been done all along through the years in the town, and St. Charles last night decided that a $28,000,000 wedding was no exception.

So Lester Norris, cartoonist, and his recent bride, Dellora Angel Norris, notwithstanding the John W. Gates millions inherited by the youthful bride, were loaded into the old calf-rack on the back of a grunting, awaying spring wagon and driven through the vista of their townspeople and friends, kids and sages, matrons and maids, showered here and again with old shoes and rice.

Bride in Tears.

And the calf-rack gauntlet proved a nerve-racking experience for the young bride, for at last she pushed her way through the crowd of men and women, burst suddenly into tears as she entered the calf-rack, and with many automobiles, tooting loudly, in the van and wake, started up the thoroughfare.

CATHOLIC PARTY QUITS CABINET OF MUSSOLINI

ROME, April 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Premier Mussolini has accepted the resignations of the cabinet ministers belonging to the Popular (Catholic) party.

In a letter to Stefano Cavazzoni accepting the resignations of the ministers Premier Mussolini says:

"If my government were the result of one of the customary or traditional parliamentary crises the resolution voted by the parliamentary group of the Popular party might, in some degree, have satisfied me. Today it does not, and you can easily understand the reasons."

"It is not worth my while to undertake the difficult task of interpreting a resolution voted by the most violent elements of the left. I asked for an explanation, and find myself confronted with a rather obscure document which does not modify the substance of the vote taken by the congress at Turin, which, according to the evidence of the Popular deputies who participated therein, was essentially an anti-Fascist gathering."

He Took Their Word.

"It is poor sportsmanship to load the disgrace of this thing on a young man who took the word, the sworn word, of these supposed gentlemen or their representatives and finds himself held up to derision."

"Why don't you fellows come out and fight like men or confess like little boys that are caught in a dirty deal but don't want your younger brother punished?"

"There are a lot of you and if you keep silence I will do what I can to see that you get your full share of the responsibility for helping to put a cloud on a young man's name and that of his family, an honorable family."

"If I am not mistaken the press and the district attorney and the attorney general will aid in smothering you out."

To Rehearse Ancient Drama.

"But if you have your way, this young lawyer will rehearse that ancient drama recorded in an ancient law book."

"And Aaron shall lay his hands upon the head of the live goat, and confess over him all the iniquities of the Children of Israel, and all their transgressions in all their sins, putting them upon the head of the goat and shall send him away by the hand of a fit man into the wilderness. And the goat shall bear upon him all their iniquities into a land of separation; and he that let go the goat for the scape goat shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water, and afterward come into camp." Leviticus, Chapter 16:21, 22, 26.

While Mr. Andrews did not employ biblical passages to express his idea of the position he now occupies, he did characterize himself as "the goat."

"I stand on my position as the Grommes & Ullrich controversy adversely—morally and legally," Mr. Andrews said. "I'm going down to Washington to find out just what has happened, and I am fortified to make a final fight. If a lot of booze sipping millionaires are trying to make me the goat, I want to know about it right away."

SUSPENDED DRY CHIEF FIGHTS RUM DIVIDEND

Won't Be "Goat" in Grommes Split.

Fighting mad, to quote his own words, Roscoe C. Andrews, the 28 year old attorney who was dismissed from his office of Chicago prohibition director during a day full of rum running graft charges, declared war last night on the forces he claims have tried to ruin his character and professional standing.

Today Mr. Andrews and a committee of his supporters, will start for Washington to force the issue, demanding a restoration of his rights and a clean slate.

"Cleanup" Man Arrives.

In the meantime, W. D. Moss, who has been serving as acting prohibition agent of New Jersey, and known in the prohibition department as a "cleanup man," has taken charge of the local office. He threw the office into a turmoil yesterday, subordinating the dismissal of Andrews. And while the Chicago situation was thus embroiled, Washington furnished a sensation growing out of charges that millions are involved in the widespread bribery of officials in the prohibition division.

While Mr. Andrews was preparing his heated declaration of war, the Rev. Elmer L. Williams, an ardent dry and a supporter of the discharged prohibition director, issued a statement hot with anger over the summary dismissal of Andrews. And while the Chicago situation was thus embroiled, Washington furnished a sensation growing out of charges that millions are involved in the widespread bribery of officials in the prohibition division.

Follows "Divided Storm."

Director Andrews' suspension was admittedly due to the storm that followed the revelations of the Grommes & Ullrich "$28,000,000 booze dividend," although the official suspension order did not mention the case, Mr. Williams' statement was premised on the theory that the distribution a month ago was responsible for Mr. Andrews' present plight. It is as follows:

"The most damning thing about this deal is that 120 men and women split four thousand cases of whiskey, rum, brandy, and cordials, but that a lot of men prominent in business, society, and politics should be so yellow as to keep silence and let a young man be ruined in his profession."

He Took Their Word.

"It is poor sportsmanship to load the disgrace of this thing on a young man who took the word, the sworn word, of these supposed gentlemen or their representatives and finds himself held up to derision."

Auto Arrest Fixers Face Prison 'Hitch'

Details of the killing of three persons by automobiles and motor trucks in Chicago yesterday and of the holding of two persons to the grand jury for manslaughter by motor cars are printed on page 3.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

"Fixers" of automobile cases were served with a broadcast notice by Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court last night that they are engaged in "fixing" activities as practiced by them from now on a vigorous effort will be made to land them in the penitentiary.

Olson.

In a formal warning the chief justice pointed out that political drag is being worked overtime to suppress cases against automobile speeders and other violators of traffic laws.

"Some of our public officials, knowingly, are flitting with the warden of the penitentiary," he said.

One Official Confesses.

The announcement of drastic action, in which Justice Olson was joined by Judge Harry M. Walker of the "Speeding" court, followed an inquiry into "fixing" activities as practiced by some public officials. A commissioner of one of the park boards, whose name was not divulged by the court, when brought on the carpet confessed that he had ordered park policemen to turn arrest slips over to one officer and had then "pulled the slips" from this officer, so that the cases could not be prosecuted.

"He was surprised to find he had committed a penitentiary offense," says the court's notice.

Judge Walker reports that in one west side district, north of Washington boulevard and west of the river, hardly a case against automobile speeders has been brought in during the last month.

Police Morale "Shot."

Incidentally, an official of a park board, recently informed by the Chicago Safety council that the morale of his police force was being shot to pieces for as fast as the officers made arrests park commissioners went out and "fixed up" the cases.

At the city hall some aldermen are kept busy with calls from "constituents" who want them to intervene in automobile arrest cases. For a long time past the agencies who are planning a drive to make safe the streets of Chicago, where victims are being killed by automobiles at the rate of two a day and injured at the rate of six to ten a day, have been remarking that among the first obstacles to be overcome in the drive to "dreg" and "pull" in the fixing of cases.

"This warning," says Judge Olson's statement, "will be followed by the arrest and prosecution of all persons, officials and policemen, including auto drivers, who are guilty of this serious conspiracy against the laws of the state."

Thousand Cases "Fixed."

One court report is cited showing that one park board alone in 1922 settled 700 cases and returned 300 warrants unserved, meaning 1,000 cases of speeding or failure to stop at boulevards that never came to trial.

"A new conscience must come to these people or they shall be prosecuted and sent to the penitentiary," the court warns all those concerned in "fixing" cases.

TWO ACCEPTED AS JURORS TO TRY LUNDIN

Quizzing Gives Line on the Defense.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Two jurors to hear the conspiracy case against Fred Lundin and twenty-two co-defendants had been tentatively accepted by both sides at the conclusion of the first day of the trial yesterday.

One other man had been examined and temporarily passed by the defense. This was the net result of the session, in which eight men were examined.

Four men were tendered by the state. The two that remained after Attorney Clarence Darrow had concluded his examination of the panel were:

FRED ALLEN SMITH, 7115 Eberhart avenue, solicitor for Bartlett, Frazer & Co.

OTTO RABE, 845 Willow street, tool grinder.

Asked About Factions.

Q—You know of the fight and bitter-ness between the political factions? A—Yes.

Q—You don't know whether this prosecution is due to the political fight or whether something has been done that is wrong? A—No.

Q—Objections were raised to this, but the court permitted it, and Mr. Darrow secured.

Q—You don't know whether this indictment is because of politics or because of something wrong? A—I think they have done something wrong.

Q—That is the way you feel about it? A—Until I have something against it.

Second Man Quizzed.

Mr. Smith, who remains in the box, appeared to be an independent official, unconcerned in political affairs.

Arthur K. Wightman, 619 South Park avenue, a real estate man, 25, and unmarried, was examined and accepted by the state. He had been a sergeant of engineers in France and had no idea as to the merits of this case, he said.

Mr. Rabb, who remains in the box, was born in Germany and attended parochial schools to the fourth grade. He had never heard of Lavin. He always votes the Republican ticket, but is "not interested" in newspapers, has no children, has no idea of the case.

Mr. Steffen, on the contrary, reads the papers carefully and has heard a great deal about the case. He also attended the parochial school and belongs to the Knights of Columbus. Joseph Norvick, 489 Racine avenue, was accused because he proved to be a worker in the Brundage political camp.

LAVIN'S ESTATE SET AT $25,000 IN COURT RECORD

Property valued at less than $25,000 is included in the estate of Capt. Patrick J. Lavin, former commander of the loop police district, according to a petition for letters of administration of his estate filed before Assistant Probate Judge Frederick Elliott, yesterday.

Capt. Lavin, who died intestate, is believed to have transferred real estate and securities valued at several hundred thousands of dollars to his wife, Mrs. Ellen Lavin, before his death about six weeks ago. According to Attorney John Barnes, Lavin's scheduled estate is represented in cash deposited in bank.

Under the state inheritance law, Mrs. Lavin, who offered a $50,000 bond as security in the event of her appointment as administratrix, will receive one-third of the estate. The residue will be divided between five children, John, Harry, Mary, and Frances Lavin and Mrs. Evelyn Lavin Garrity.

COMB CITY FOR 3 DESPERADOES WHO FLEE JOLIET

Squads of police searched through Chicago's underworld last night for three notorious gunmen who had escaped from Joliet penitentiary earlier in the day. Chief Hughes ordered the men brought in "dead or alive."

The convicts are: Horace "Big Boy" Simmons, Noble Dienesen, and George Spiller. All three were "sent down" from Chicago and it is believed by Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes that they will attempt to slip back here for refuge among friends.

The convicts made their escape during the early hours of yesterday morning but it was not discovered until shortly after 8 o'clock when a guard happened to notice a rope hanging from the top of the outer wall.

SEELENFREUND OF GRAFT JURY DIES IN SOUTH

Overwork in School Case Believed Cause.

Alexander B. Seelenfreund, international secretary of the B'nai B'rith, and secretary of the school-graft grand jury, died suddenly yesterday morning in a hotel at Memphis where he was stopping for a few days.

Overstrain, the result of his work for the last eight months in connection with the grand jury, is believed to have been responsible.

Mr. Seelenfreund went to Memphis a few days ago in connection with the golden jubilee celebration of the B'nai B'rith. While he had lately seemed somewhat overworked, he appeared to be otherwise in his usual health and the news of his death was the first intimation that his health was seriously affected.

Refuses Bribery Offer.

He had been consistently in the public eye ever since the investigation into the school scandals was started. In January he started the jury and the public by his assertion that an attempt had been made to bribe him with $25,000 to stop the investigation. He refused the bribe and the man walked out and disappeared.

It was due to his ceaseless energy and work on the jury that eventually he collapsed, according to those who were associated with him. "Mr. Seelenfreund came to me only last week," said Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley yesterday, "and told me that he believed the eight sessions were affecting the health of the jurors. His own health was failing, he declared."

Will Not Affect Quota.

"His death is a great shock to me," continued the judge. "He was one of the ablest and most industrious jurors we have ever had."

Judge McKinley stated that Mr. Seelenfreund's death would not in any way affect the grand jury. He pointed out that as long as there are sixteen members the jury can legally operate.

Mr. Seelenfreund, whose offices were at 7 South Dearborn street, had been living at the Sheraton-Palace hotel for some time. He is survived by his widow, a son, Louis M. Seelenfreund, and a married daughter.

New York, April 23.—[Special.]—A committee of eight American architects, painters and sculptors, with full authority to pass on applications of American students for entrance to the Fontainebleau school of the Fine Arts in France, has turned down the applicant because she is of the Negro race.

They believe her trip to France and her presence in the school would be disagreeable to some white students and embarrassing to her.

The Negro is Augusta Savage. She came here two years ago from a Florida village.

She is the first person of Negro blood to apply for admission. The necessary money for her trip was raised by friends. She has returned it to them.

WIVES TELL OF HOUSE OF DAVID CHILD WEDDINGS

Shield Purnell Before the Grand Jury.

BY DONALD EWING.

St. Joseph, Mich., April 23.—(Special.)—Twenty-eight wives and husbands wedded in a sudden group ceremony last week on the eve of the state investigation into the alleged immorality of the House of David Israelites, who were called as witnesses at the first session of the inquiry.

While only two of the newlyweds had a chance to talk today, their testimony was said to have proved that Michigan laws were violated in the wedding if not in the practices of the House of David, head of the cult and a fugitive from justice.

The brides, supposedly the cast-off wives of Benjamin, who is said to have seduced dozens of girls 12 to 16 years old by convincing them that his activities was a holy writ, were looked upon by the state as the most important of the witnesses. While they have thus far refused to incriminate Benjamin, the testimony of the first witness, Countess Drake, laid a foundation for subornation of perjury and illegal marriage charges.

Age of Bride Mistrusted.
Countess, a pretty little dark haired thing in knee skirts, was wedded to Earl Woodworth, 30, Saturday. The affidavit for the marriage license, signed that she was 17 years old. When confronted with public school records of Warren county showing her age to be 18 a few months ago, she looked down and confessed that she was only 15. Michigan laws provide that a girl must be at least 16 before she can marry.

Countess was in the hearing room for three hours. When she came out her husband, a shy looking youngster with the appearance of a high school boy caught playing hooky, was summoned. Both denied that they had been coerced into marriage or that Countess had been cast off by David, and even been the victim of his holy rites.

The House of David belief provides that 14 followers may wed, but that there must be no marital relations—no children.

Protects Benjamin.
"Have you observed the rules of the cult since your marriage that there must be no marital relations?" Judge Harry Dugan, the one-man grand jury before whom the inquiry is conducted under the Michigan laws, asked Countess.

"Yes," she replied.
"Did you have relations, or holy rites, or anything that might come under that head, with Benjamin Purnell?"

"No."
"Did you say, in asking for a marriage license, that you were 17?"

"No." The license was arranged at St. Joseph. "I did not personally apply for a license."
"Were you compelled to marry Woodworth?"

"Oh, no. We have been in love for many months."
"Do you know whether your sister, Tina, and her husband have obeyed the rule of the cult?"

"You'll have to ask her."
Licenses Taken Out in Groups.
The licenses for the fourteen couples were taken out in the office of Frank L. Hall, county clerk, by Frances J. Thorpe, assistant secretary of the House of David. Hall was called as a witness prior to the testimony of the newlyweds. He told of the affidavits presented for the licenses in which each of the girls was said to be more than 16 and the ages of the boys were listed as from 18 to 20. Whatever their ages may be, there were grooms in the group today who had yet to feel the first fuzz on their chin and brides whose age did not require the hair to be put up on their heads, or the dresses to go below the knee.

The House of David followers let their whiskers and beards grow, and these young grooms found that impossible through the lack of whiskers of any kind. As they talked to one another, there was the shrill falsetto of the boy of 15 suddenly changing to the deep, rough, unfinished bass of the voice changing lad of 14.

Children in Appearance.
The girls, some of them looking as if they had forgotten their dolls, were dressed as for picnic. Every one wore a long string of pearls, the symbol of purity, and their dresses were in rather fashioning color combinations of blue and white, green and gold, scarlet and yellow or black and gold. Faces and eyes showed that supposed lack of worldliness in the House of David has not barred the rouge and powder of the sophisticated city sisters of these isolated girls.

Among the voice changing boys was one in trousers that approached a bell bottom. The boys and the older grooms all wore caps. They had new slick and span suits, stylish spring coats and, but for their whiskers, Orders given by Chief Collins for the enforcement of the laws regulating traffic and for the arrest of speeders led yesterday to a jam in the speeders' court, where more than 500 defendants appeared for trial before Judge John A. Bugee.

might have been transported from along Wilson avenue.

They spent their waiting time during the afternoon rushing out to the drug store for chocolates for their brides or telling the newspaper reporters why they shouldn't print anything about Benjamin and his tribe.

Attorney General on Hand.
The hearing got under way with Attorney General Andrew Dougherty in personal charge. He arrived suddenly this morning.

His presence added a gesture of stern sincerity to the inquiry, which, after the attorney general leaves in a few days, will be under the direction of his assistant, Homer Quay, and before Judge Dingeman. Under the Michigan law, instead of a grand jury, a hearing may be held before a circuit judge, which is how Judge Dingeman became the one man grand jury.

Sheriff George Bridgman threw the House of David into consternation when he suddenly drove up today with the "twenty-eight" subpoenas. The brides and grooms were quickly summoned from the farms and ordered to appear to their best. Then their grooms went to the Shiloh house, where the girls live according to the rules of the cult, and brought their brides down.

VORONOFF WILL TURN DOWAGERS INTO FLAPPERS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
PARIS, April 23.—Dr. Serge Voronoff told L'Espresso today that he will be ready to rejuvenate all women-kind by July.

The monkey-faced expert's experiments on the female of the species have been uniformly successful so far, but he does not wish to make a definite publication of his process until his demonstration is complete.

The month of July will see Dr. Voronoff's latest efforts, and if they are successful, as he believes, he will let the rest of the world in on the secret of how to make young ones out of old ones.

"For the present," he said, "my teachings in the French colleges seem most successful with regard to animals," the Russian said. "There is a more economic value in prolonging the life of a goat than in prolonging the life of a man."

Gems Ready for Return
Before She Knows of Loss
Before she discovered her loss a vanity case containing two diamond rings valued at $6,000, which she had left in a Yellow taxicab Sunday night, was ready to be returned this morning to Mrs. G. W. Scott, 2437 West Jackson boulevard.

E. Levy, driver of the cab, found the vanity case while sweeping out his car.

3 DEATHS SEND AUTO FATALITY TOLL UP TO 187

500 Speeders in Court;
Some Jailed.

Automobiles caused the death of three persons yesterday, bringing the year's total of motor fatalities to 187. Two drivers involved in fatal accidents were ordered held to the grand jury on manslaughter charges by coroner's juries, while more than 500 motorists crowded Municipal Judge John Bugee's Speeders' court to answer charges of reckless driving and other vehicle law violations.

Less than twenty hours after his automobile had struck and killed Frank Magrele, 76 years old, 2013 West 20th street, at South Spaulding avenue and West 20th street, Henry Zerlink, 2514 South St. Louis avenue, was ordered bound over to the grand jury by the coroner's jury. The aged man was taken to St. Anthony's hospital, where he died in an hour.

Killed by Motor Truck.
W. R. Elvins, 50 years old, a building trades laborer, was instantly killed at West Van Buren and Market streets when struck by a heavily loaded motor truck driven by Peter Brodunski, 1242 West Van Buren street. Brodunski is held by police pending an inquest.

Injuries sustained when he was struck by an automobile at Grand boulevard and 9th street caused the death of Al Rumble, 50 years old, colored, living at 256 East 56th street. Theodore Koenig, 9945 Winston avenue, driver of the car, is held by the police.

Joseph Volence, 3046 South Homan avenue, whose automobile careened onto a sidewalk near 5376 West 26th street Sunday and killed 4 year old Bohoslav Gruska, 5125 West 20th street, was held to the grand jury on manslaughter charges by a coroner's jury yesterday.

Lost Control, Charge.
Frank Gruska and his wife, Julia Gruska, mother and father of the dead boy, were seriously injured at the same time. Volence said he had lost control of the automobile.

Miss Florence Berzheim, 930 Montrose avenue, was seriously injured when she was struck by an automobile driven by Charles Werth, 2632 Lexington street, at Randolph street and Michigan avenue. Werth, who summoned aid for the girl, was not held by the police.

Some Drivers Jailed.
Fines of from $5 to $175, coupled with jail sentences in some cases, were inflicted upon careless drivers who were arrested Sunday in a police drive.

HANDS OF DEATH

Clock indicates number of persons killed in Cook county since Jan. 1 last: by automobiles, by shooting, and by moonshine.

which netted 394 violators. One hundred and eighty-four continued cases were also disposed of by Judge Bugee. Convicted of driving an automobile while intoxicated, Leo Skora, 4193 Archer avenue, was fined $175 and sentenced to a six months term in the house of correction. Skora was arrested in Lincoln park by Park Police-man Gannon, who charged that Skora was driving at more than 45 miles an hour and halted only after he was slightly wounded by a bullet.

Couldn't Stand Alone.
Thomas Flannery, 4634 Drexel boulevard, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in the House of Correction for driving while intoxicated. When arrested, according to Police-man Kinella, Flannery was so drunk he could not stand alone.

Undertakers Fleece on Fake Death Scheme

A new type of confidence game, designed for gullible undertakers, was explained to Judge Schwab yesterday when Frank Baranska, 1517 North Talman avenue, was sentenced to ten days in the House of Correction and fined $100 and costs. Baranska's plan was to arrange with an undertaker for the funeral of his brother, John, and then on a plea of having forgotten his money, obtain a loan. When the undertaker went for John J. Crendon, of this city.

DEVER TO ADD $8,000,000 TO TRACTION FUND

Won't Spurn the Surface
Lines' Offer, Belief.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Mayer Dever will be advised upon his return from his vacation to accept the $8,000,000 which was tendered by the surface lines to the city and refused by the last administration. It is expected that the mayor will accept the advice and coin. This will make a total in excess of $26,272,000 in the traction fund.

Thus will end the pet hobby of the Thompson regime which they will follow sundry actions of importance. One of these will be the dismissal of the forfeiture proceedings by which the last administration sought to cancel the franchises of the companies. Mayor Dever as a candidate labeled the Thompson battle against the traction interests as a "game of bluff."

Lawyers Probe Case.
The city's lawyers have been checking up on the $8,000,000 tender for nearly a week. The three special lawyers, Stephen A. Foster, William H. Sexton, and Jerome N. Frank, conferred at length yesterday with Corporation Counsel Bush, City Controller O'Brien, Deputy Controller Gossett, and two accountants. They also talked with James W. Breen and Chester E. Cleveland of the last administration's legal staff.

Foster, Sexton, and Frank were unable to find any written opinion telling the controller why he should refuse the millions, so they attempted to learn from Breen and Cleveland orally what were the legal theories underlying the city's refusal, as well as the reasons why those views were refused in writing. The refusal of $1,447,363 in 1920, $2,144,518 in 1921, $2,324,112 in 1922, and of $1,653,046 this year were looked upon by the trio of lawyers as of sufficient importance to warrant a written opinion. The trio were not impressed with the theories advanced by Mr. Breen when considered in the light of a practical handling of the transportation question.

The majority of the new leases taboo dogs and other household pets. Sixty per cent of the real estate agents, however, suggested a "try it and see" policy, and cited the success of other tenants. A dog is safe, it seems, despite the lease, until some of the neighbors complain. Then the clause becomes operative.

Costly Apartments in Plenty.

$75 Flats Scarce, with $100 Up Plentiful, Survey Shows

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

Keep the baby's perambulator in the front hall—the landlord doesn't mind. Hide the dog in the basement—there's a clause in the lease forbidding "pets," but half the tenants get by with a dog. Don't demand more than a "sensible" amount of redecorating. Be content to live over a store, or in the blunderlands, if you want four or five rooms for less than $75.

But, above all, take it or leave it quickly. Somebody else is after it, if it's a lower priced apartment.

Cession Thing of Past.

And that is the situation for the spring renter of a flat under $100 a month, according to a survey made of typical centers on the north, south, and northwest sections of Chicago on the eve of May 1 doffing of old apartments for new.

There are no concessions given this year. Last year's half of a month's free rental, usually while the new apartment was being finished, has disappeared completely.

Landlords show an increased generosity in their promises of decorating, always "within reason," and frequently "to be discussed later, when you make up your mind." In about 5 per cent of the flats there is a suggested concession of a monthly drop in rent, varying from $2.50 to $10.

Children at Last Welcome.

Children, even in the more fashionable localities, are accepted as persons in good standing. Even the owners of new buildings are no longer fearful lest the enamel be scratched, or the imitation mahogany nicked.

"Children? What do you mean? O, allow them? Sure. Say, children have got to live," was the universal reply to the question.

The majority of the new leases taboo dogs and other household pets. Sixty per cent of the real estate agents, however, suggested a "try it and see" policy, and cited the success of other tenants. A dog is safe, it seems, despite the lease, until some of the neighbors complain. Then the clause becomes operative.

flats for rent. The average rental is $115 for a five room flat. The average rental decreases about $5 for every four blocks' removal west from Sheridan road.

There are about fifteen apartments, three and four rooms, renting for less than $75, east of Broadway in this district. On Broadway and Clark street, many of the flats available at this price are over stores.

Further west, and north near Howard avenue, four room flats at $70 and $75 are an accepted thing, but they are very scarce.

South Side Costly, Too.
On the south side, from 47th street to 53rd, three and four room flats are scarce. There is a moderate number of apartments of from four to eight rooms. It is futile, almost, to expect anything east of Cottage Grove avenue for less than $85. The real estate agent talks glibly of $150 and $175.

J. J. Carroll, 4333 East 53rd street, has already listed and leased more than 700 four room apartments. They now have only eight for rent. A flat for $95 was considered a find.

Apartment rents at from $100 to $125 a month are shown to scores of prospective tenants, who refuse to rent. The lower price apartment is rented as soon as listed.

A prominent builder in the neighborhood recently raised all the rents in a large building from $100 to $115. None was rented. He reduced them to $100, and all were immediately rented. But south side agents warn against holding off until after May 1, and predict a possible raise later.

Look for Drop in June.
North side agents, however, suggest the wisdom of "waiting, if possible, until June 1, when there is sure to be a drop in rents."

U. S. TO PROTECT CHESTER OIL DEAL AS VALID GRANT

Will Keep a Close Eye on Lausanne Proceedings.

BY GRAPTON WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—[Special.]—Every indication here, as the near east conference at Lausanne resumes for the purpose of renewing peace efforts between Turkey and the allied governments, points to the fact that the United States will do all that it can to protect the Chester railroad and oil concessions, granted by the Ankara government to an American syndicate.

That the Chester concession will be a bone of contention at the conference, with France and Great Britain contesting the validity of the American grant, is certain.

Officially, of course, the United States has nothing whatever to do with negotiations relating to the Chester concession. It was privately negotiated by American business representatives with the Ankara government, but this government takes an interest in protecting and defending the rights of American nationals throughout the world and it appears in this case, in so far as the government has been informed, that Americans have rights which need official defense and protection.

General Principle Involved.

Primarily the American government has a special interest in view of the fight it has made for equality of opportunity in Mesopotamia and other regions of the near east.

The state department, it is known, has looked into the Chester concession carefully and all information it has been able to gather indicates that the Ankara grant to Admiral Chester and his associates is not monopolistic in character. In consequence, there appears to be no reason why the American government should not support the concessionaires in every legitimate way. It appears, therefore, as the Lausanne conference gets under way that American observers at the conference will be there under instruction to stand up for the rights of the American concessionaires.

Not Considered a Monopoly.

Under the Ankara grant, the American group is given permission to construct approximately 1,200 kilometers of railroad and the right to exploit minerals in a strip twenty kilometers wide on either side of the railway line. While a concession to build a railway might be regarded as monopolistic in the sense that another railway could not be superimposed upon the first one, it is pointed out here that there is plenty of precedent in American practice for such a concession.

The American government, for example, assisted the Union Pacific Railway company in building its transcontinental system by grants of land along the route in much the same manner as the Turkish government has made land grants to the Chester interests. It is argued, too, that the New York Central was granted permission to build a railway line up the Hudson river, but this grant did not prevent the construction of the west shore road.

In Harmony with Open Door.

The nine power treaty, respecting China, it is recalled here, defines more clearly than ever before the exact meaning of the open door, or equality of business opportunity, and officials believe there is nothing in the terms of the Chester agreement which is not in harmony with the principles of the nine power agreement.

The American government, it is asserted, already has suggested a feasible method of settling any disputes as to conflicting claims. Early in the present administration Secretary Hughes suggested the claims of the Turkish petroleum company to monopoly rights in the exploitation of the oil fields of Mesopotamia should be referred to an unbiased arbitration tribunal.

At Lausanne the American unofficial representatives made it known that this government favors referring any conflicting claims to arbitration. The American authorities, it is asserted, are so confident that there is no real validity to the claim of the Turkish petroleum company that they have no fear of their ability to establish the fact before any fair judicial body. The French claim to the right to construct railways in Anatolia likewise might be submitted to a tribunal.

British Mandate Not Involved.

In so far as Anatolia is concerned the Chester concession grants certain rights regarding the exploitation of mineral deposits, the building of railways, harbors, and dock improvements. This, of course, would not involve any question as to the British mandate over Mesopotamia and the Mosul region. The British mandate over Mesopotamia has not yet been confirmed, since no treaty has been concluded.

Ever should the ultimate decision of the territorial questions be against Turkey and in favor of the British and French mandates, it is assumed that American capital would have the right to participate on a basis of equality with the capital of Great Britain or France in the development of the natural resources of the mandated territories.

The United States has consistently claimed, and the claim has been recognized, that this government has an equal right to participation with other countries, despite the fact that the United States is not a member of the league of nations. The French have certain claims in Anatolia and the British have advanced what they allege to be a prior claim in Mesopotamia, though this government has held that the Turkish petroleum concession is not valid. If these claims have any validity, the United States government believes it ought to be easy for the claimants to establish that validity before an impartial tribunal.

G. O. P. SENTIMENT IN WEST FAVORS HARDING IN 1924

Washington, D. C., April 23.—[Special.]—Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, who has just returned from a trip to the Pacific coast, conferred with President Harding today and talked with him about political sentiment as he found it. Mr. Miller said afterward that the Republican party in its convention next year would surely, in his opinion, renominate Mr. Harding for the presidency. Mr. Miller said he found many friends of Senator Hiram Johnson (Rep., Cal.) who favor Mr. Harding's renomination. He also told the president that he found throughout the west a stronger sentiment than ever in favor of soldiers' bonus legislation.

CONSTANTINOPLE OBSERVES TURK FOURTH OF JULY

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
CONSTANTINOPLE, April 23.—As if hailing defiance at the allies in response to the pessimistic dispatches from Lausanne, Turkey today celebrated its Independence day in Constantinople for the first time since the formation of the nationalist government.

The celebration commemorating the organization of the grand national assembly took on the appearance of a military demonstration. More than 1,500 excellently equipped soldiers and cavalrymen participated in the parade. They were followed by 5,000 boy scouts of all ages.

In order to impress the allies with the unity of the country, all the stores and banks were ordered closed.

MANAGER SAVES MAN OVERCOME IN FACTORY FIRE

One man was overcome by smoke and damage to the extent of $25,000 done yesterday by a fire which broke out in a two story brick building at 1844-46 West Grand avenue, occupied by the Commercial Manufacturing company, makers of toys and cabinets. The fire was extinguished only after an hour's work by the firemen.

When the fire was discovered W. J. Seebert, general manager of the corporation, immediately checked up on all the employees. Finding Mat Geller was missing, he went back into the burning building to look for him. Geller was lying unconscious on the first floor and Mr. Seebert carried him out in his arms to the street.

MOTHER LOVE DAUGHTER AND MOTHER CONFL

Mother love, which prompts mother to spirit away the "love baby" of her daughter, caused the younger woman a year search for the child, was yesterday in a hearing of the corpus petition filed by Mrs. A. Klinger Morris before Judge J. H. Morris. An order directing the production of the child, Beatrice Klinger, was granted by Judge Morris. The mother, James Nuttall, office clerk at Waukegan and at a hearing tomorrow morning, was ordered by Judge Morris to produce the child. Judge Morris also ordered that the child be placed in the custody of the State of Illinois, as well as the Nuttall, who admits that when the child was born, she was known as Beatrice Child Nuttall.

Born Out of Wedlock. In her petition filed by Attorney J. Coburn and directed at the Illinois Children's Home and Society, as well as the Nuttall, Morris admits that when the child was born, she was known as Beatrice Child Nuttall.

MOTHER LOVE OF DAUGHTER AND MOTHER CONFLICT

Mother love, which prompted one mother to spirit away the day old "love baby" of her daughter, and caused the younger woman a twelve year search for the child, was barred yesterday in a hearing of the habeas corpus petition filed by Mrs. Ada S. Klinger Morris before Judge David.

An order directing the production of the child, Beatrice Klinger, by her foster parents, James Nuttall, a post-office clerk at Waukegan and his wife, at a hearing tomorrow morning, was issued by Judge David after a conference with Judge Claire Edwards of the Lake county Circuit court. Judge Edwards, at present sitting temporarily in the local court, agreed to sit with Judge David in the case, thus disposing of jurisdictional problems which might arise.

Born Out of Wedlock.

In her petition filed by Attorney James F. Connor and directed against the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society, as well as the Nuttalls, Mrs. Morris admits that when the girl, now known as Beatrice Childs Nuttall, was born on Aug. 6, 1911, she was but 17 years old and unmarried.

In her anxiety to avoid the disgrace which would attend the child's birth, Mrs. Morris' mother, according to the petition, caused arrangements to be made for the infant's commitment to the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society. A petition holding the baby a dependent and illegitimate child was approved by the Whiteside County court.

When the baby was less than a day old, court attachés took it from the young mother and placed it in the custody of the society, which almost immediately gave it to the Nuttall family, then living in Zion city.

Girl Mother Recovers.

For three weeks the girl mother hovered between life and death, the petition continues, and when convalescent was informed that the child had been given away. The shock unbalanced her mind and for months, according to the petition, Mrs. Morris wandered aimlessly through Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin, babbling to strangers about her lost child.

Relatives finally apprehended her and when her reason was regained, early in December, 1911, the girl married Clayton B. Klinger, admitted father of the child. The search for the baby was continued until 1919, when the then Mrs. Klinger divorced her husband and married James Morris.

Efforts to learn the whereabouts of the child were fruitless until recently, when she was found living as the daughter of the Nuttalls in Waukegan. They had formally adopted her in 1916 under the assumed name of Beatrice Childs.

Her Appeals Unheeded.

All appeals to the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society for information concerning her baby were repulsed, Mrs. Morris asserts, and it is alleged in the petition that officials of that organization advised the foster parents to "hurry with the adoption before the mother found where the baby was."

Both the decree of dependent illegitimacy and the later adoption by the Nuttalls are held to be void by Mrs. Morris, inasmuch as it was falsely asserted in the first petition that she was present in court and assented to the entry of the order which declared the baby to be an abandoned child.

Nuttall, it is asserted, has threatened to hide the child from her mother if Mrs. Morris discloses her parentage, although the girl, according to the petition, has displayed an unusual affection for the woman she knows only as a friend.

Woman in Ill Health

Attempts to End Life

Mrs. Myrtle Miller, 35 years old, living at the New Southern hotel, 13th street and Michigan avenue, attempted to commit suicide in her room by swallowing poison last night. She was taken to the St. Luke's hospital, where the doctors say her condition is favorable. Dependency over ill health is believed to be the cause of the act.

JUDGES LAUNCH INQUIRY INTO RECEIVERSHIPS

Professional bankruptcy receivers in the Circuit court became the subject of judicial inquiry yesterday when Judge Kichham Scanlan ordered Jacob Goldman, receiver of property in several hundred recent cases, to produce a full accounting of his stewardship this afternoon.

The investigation ordered by the executive committee of the Circuit court bench, headed by Chief Justice Francis S. Wilson, is the result of persistent rumors that bankruptcy properties and estates have been grossly mismanaged. Goldman, according to court records, has headed the list in number of appointments.

JACOB GOLDMAN.

He was the first to receive attention from Judge Scanlan.

His Counsel Protested.

Failure of Goldman to offer a satisfactory accounting of assets placed under his control caused the judges to order the investigation set in motion by Judge Scanlan. Attorneys William, Lewis F. Jacobson, and Cameron Lattier, as counsel for Goldman, protested against the entry of any order compelling the appearance of their client or the production of his records until bonds for the receiver could be secured.

"Give us time to get a bond for Goldman," pleaded Attorney Jacobson. "Why talk about a bond now?" asked Judge Scanlan. "Nobody has made any criminal charges."

Must Answer Queries.

Goldman will be required to answer in detail a series of questions sent to all Circuit court receivers by the executive committee a few days ago.

Startling disclosures of the purchase of diamonds, furniture, and jewelry, paid for by receivers with their official checks, are said to have been made to the judges. Other receivers are said to have deposited the funds of companies for whom they acted in single bank accounts, instead of separate accounts for each litigant.

Attorney Michael Feinberg has been appointed as special counsel for the judges' committee. Miss Cecil H. Page, bookkeeper for Goldman, testified briefly yesterday.

Presents Seventy-five Reports.

Goldman, in response to the judges' request for details of his conduct of receiverships, has presented reports in forty-five of the cases in which he has acted. Attorney Jacobson said last night. "He produced certified checks for all the money in cases in which he was involved. Goldman is under more than $100,000 bonds for the faithful performance of his duty, and should the occasion arise is amply able from his own finances to secure any creditor from loss."

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place. Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation, and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness. You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles' Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store. Wholesale Pharmacy Co., New York.

REFORMERS RAMPANT.

Chicago, April 12.—Now comes the Rev.
Harry L. Rowley of New York with the idea of starting a national campaign to close places of amusement on Sunday.
We might have expected it. Majority rule doesn't mean anything in the United States any more. Prohibition was just swayed. The reformers won't stop now until they've reformed everything in sight. The word "liberty" should be stricken from the American dictionary.
Senator MacDermott springs the bill on the Illinois legislature. This sort of thing makes me so mad I'm beginning to suspect religion and all those who believe in it. Do these worthy gentlemen think that by closing amusement places that they can make people go to church?
Sunday doesn't mean "Lord's day" to me. It means a day in which I can rest and get a little enjoyment out of life after working all week. Will I sit at home and twiddle my thumbs if such a law is passed, just because a bunch of arrogant-minded reformers think Sunday should be spent in church? Will I? Will the thousands of other respectable citizens who have brains enough to think things out for themselves?

S. L. RODRIGUEZ.

TRAFFIC LAW VIOLATIONS.

Chicago, April 20.—Seeing that you are pushing a crusade to prevent automobile accidents and deaths, I believe that the few words I may have to say on this subject will be helpful.
I drive about twenty-five miles each day in the city, and the number of violations of the automobile ordinances that I see makes me wonder that the deaths are not higher.
Among the most common on the part of the drivers are the following:
1. Failure to stop at boulevards.
2. Failure to obey stop signs. That is, automatic ones.
3. Passing street cars while they are stopping or discharging passengers.
4. Failure to keep machines under control when driving behind street cars so that they can make a sudden stop if needed.
Those on the part of the pedestrians:
1. Stepping out from behind street cars and automobiles.
2. Stepping in front of street cars and not dodging them, but failing to pay attention to what may be coming along from the side of the car.
3. Failure to pay attention to the automobile stop signals and give the driver the right of way when it is his.
4. Stepping into the street while in conversation with some one and paying no attention to traffic.

I have not said anything about speeding or drunken drivers, for speeding is a handicap right in this city, and as for drunken drivers, they ought to be hung.
When the motorcycle police start a drive on speeders they lay along some frequent street hiding and waiting for some driver who is trying to make a little time and then nab him. Their work seems to be judged by the number of arrests they make and not what they do to prevent accidents. If they would get out and ride their territory and arrest violators of the ordinances I have mentioned above they would be doing something.

How far ahead is business thinking?

IS opportunity in American business catching up with men's ability—and passing it? Production and distribution are organized, for economy's sake, into large units. Still larger units are coming. But what about the organization of brain power? Are we creating jobs that are too big for the men we have?

Edward N. Hurley thinks so. He believes that by making our working units too big we keep men from developing and using their natural abilities. In this week's Collier's he points out the dangers of too much specialization, and tells what intelligent business is beginning to do about it.

"We so arrange our business life," writes Mr. Hurley, "that it is not necessary for the people down the line to know more than the motions of certain duties and the particular jargon that goes with those duties."

"And yet with this narrowing of men we are constantly expanding the size of our enterprises. But what if the people cannot follow? What will be the economy of great headless, brainless institutions—business ships too big for their rudders?"

"I wonder sometimes where we are going to get the big men of the future—the men who quietly direct great affairs."

"... Undoubtedly we have to give thought to permitting the development of administrative ability. We have, I repeat, too many 'specialists'. But we might ponder over whether we do not tend to plan jobs too big for any one human being to swing."

The people who do today's business and today's thinking are solving today's problems—shaping the America we live in. Collier's is edited to help them; not to think for them, but to find facts for them; not to make up their minds, but to shake up their minds.

In more than a million homes live these keen, open-minded men and women. Their influence and their interest in today's affairs make them the most responsive market an advertiser of good goods can reach.

store proprietor and reported to have been an "under cover" agent, sponsored by Col. L. G. Nutt, now chief of the federal narcotic division, is said to have made serious accusations concerning graft levies here. He is said to have named a man close to W. J. Burns, the chief of the government department of justice, as the leader of the "shakedown crew."

Salomon's affidavit is said to have been made at the instance of a Chicago syndicate that is alleged to have paid $20,000 as earnest money on a $100,000 pool for the issuance of permits for the removal of 40,000 cases of whisky. Salomon went to Washington in an endeavor to obtain the return of the $20,000 claimed to have been paid on account.

Went to White House.
Failing to obtain a refund, he is declared to have told all he knew. He brought his complaint directly to the White House and received a reply from George B. Christian, secretary to President Harding, stating it would receive the President's consideration. Efforts in Washington to reach Gaston B. Means, who conferred with Salomon in Washington, brought the information he had left the city. Means, who was tried and acquitted of the murder of Mrs. Maud A. King, was later an operative for the W. J. Burns Detective agency, and after Burns' appointment as head of the bureau of investigation became an employee of the department of justice.

Means, it is said, told a reporter he was investigating Salomon's charges of graft and also was endeavoring to have Salomon appointed prohibition director in the Chicago district.

"I was offered the job of prohibition director while I was in Washington, provided I would pay $50,000 for it," Salomon said yesterday. "I went there to collect $50,000 which men I represent paid to department of justice."

DOWN ARMS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BUENOS AIRES, April 23.—Argentine newspapers regard the proposed conference at Montevideo of the presidents of Argentina, Brazil, Chile, and Uruguay as an attempt to detract attention from the Santiago conference. El Diario says the failure to what it calls the imperialism of the United States and the paternal attitude which the United States insists on maintaining towards the Latin-American republics.

The Argentine papers are unanimous in charging Brazil and Chile with having reached an agreement to arm against Argentina. Both El Diario and La Prensa say that Brazil's military policy is "officially" directed by the American naval mission at Rio de Janeiro.

El Diario says that it would be useless for the four presidents to attempt to solve any problem unless the United States is included in the conference and, if it is included, it will not deign to send its president. It adds that the South American presidents then have put themselves into the position of being no higher than whatever attorney the United States might send with the rank of a minister.

Big Jobs Peddled.

Other charges made to Washington officials concerned the "peddling" of federal prohibition directorships. A group of former government employees are said to have collected large sums on promises to deliver these big jobs at $50,000 each, and also to have been in the market for any kind of deal that necessitated "fixing" or "stretching" of the prohibition laws.

A number of individuals, including a prominent Philadelphian, are said to have paid portions of the price demanded for directorships and still are waiting for the appointments, according to information in the hands of government officials.

The reports in their hands also allege that this organization has preyed on liquor dealers, wholesale drug concerns, and patent medicine manufacturers, obtaining more than $1,000,000 in the last few months.

There is no process of law known to prevent a ship clearing from a British port for the West Indies, for instance, with a legitimate cargo and a few cases of whisky and transshipping the whisky on the high seas to other craft which would take the risk of running the liquor in.

This problem is being extended and also the possibility of some mutual agreement for extending the three mile limit.

That matters have not yet reached a definite stage are shown by an answer of W. G. A. Ormsby-Gore for the colonial office to a question in the house of commons in which he stated that exports to the Bahamas in 1918 amounted to £1,855 ($49,579), and spirits £5,370 ($139,938). Last year the value of wine exported was £27,540 ($125,125) and spirits more than £1,000,000 ($5,000,000).

Asked how much of this was due to prohibition America, Mr. Ormsby-Gore said he thought practically all.

Commander Kenworthy said that for the sake of friendship for the United States these islands should be placed on ration, to which Mr. Ormsby-Gore replied:

"We certainly should not interfere with British trade. If we prohibited it, they would go to Haiti or some other place."

BRITISH PROFESS INABILITY TO END BOOZE RUNNING

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, April 23.—(Tribune Radio.)—It is learned that negotiations are going on between the United States and British governments for the purpose of checking liquor smuggling from British possessions to America. These take the form of suggesting some sort of mutual agreement to prevent smuggling either way, but it is proving difficult to find a legal method for so doing.

STATE TO PRESS $2,000,000 SU AGAINST SMA

Any doubt that the civil suit filed against Gov. Small and former state treasurers to recover $2,000,000 interest on state funds be prosecuted to the limit was dispelled yesterday by Attorney General J. J. Brundage.

Reiteration of this determination from the attorney came through a letter replying to L. G. ton, mayor of Vienna, Ill., who written to Mr. Brundage expressing himself as "disgusted" with what called "a campaign of persecution political motives."

His Persecution Charge.
Dwelling upon this charge of "persecution," Attorney General Brundage replied that "an effort is being made to secure a portion of the state pay to give the impression that we are against the governor are political."

"Do you think," he asked the mayor, "that I have got the state's attorneys of different counties and the grand of these same counties to conspire me to prosecute the chief executive of the state of Illinois on base charges?"

STATE TO PRESS $2,000,000 SUIT AGAINST SMALL

Any doubt that the civil suits instituted against Gov. Small and other state treasurers to recover $2,000,000 interest on state funds will be prosecuted to the limit was dispelled yesterday by Attorney General Edward J. Brundage.

Retention of this determination came from the attorney general through a letter replying to L. G. Newcomb, mayor of Vienna, Ill., who had written to Mr. Brundage expressing "disgust" with what he called "a campaign of persecution with political motives."

Brundage, upon this charge of "persecution," Attorney General Brundage replied that "an effort is being made by a portion of the press, whose object is upon the state pay roll, to give the impression that my suits against the governor are political."

"I think," he asked the Vienna mayor in this connection, "I could have got the state's attorneys of two other counties and the grand jurors of those same counties to conspire with me to prosecute the chief executive of the state of Illinois on baseless charges."

Letter to Newton.

Mr. Brundage's letter to Mayor Newcomb reads:

"Permit me to say that in January,

1921, the newly inaugurated state treasurer, affiliated politically with Gov. Small, laid before me certain evidence which showed, in my judgment, a willful misuse of the public funds by two of the preceding state treasurers, of which Gov. Small was one.

"I laid the evidence" before the state's attorney of that county, as it was my sworn duty to do, and the state's attorney fulfilled his official obligations by presenting it to a grand jury. This evidence was, and I still believe is, of a character to justify the grand jury of Sangamon county returning indictments.

"An effort has been made to lead the public to believe that this litigation is 'persecution.' I have no feud with Gov. Small nor no personal animosity toward him. I have, however, assumed an oath of office."

GROWING LAWLESSNESS

Herrin defendants would have paid the penalty of murder and the people of this state would not be confronted with the humiliating recognition of the impotency of our own laws if the prosecution could have carried the case outside "Bloody Williamson" county, the scene of last summer's mine war massacre.

Attorney General Edward J. Brundage, without mention of Herrin, but in obvious reference to it—let this inference in addressing University of Michigan alumni following a noon luncheon at the Hamilton club yesterday.

E. H. GARY PUTS HIMSELF RIGHT ON IMMIGRATION

New York, April 23.—(Special.)—E. H. Gary, chairman of directors of the United States Steel corporation, in a statement to newspaper men today, expounded his views of the current immigration laws. His remarks in regard to this matter, made at the annual meeting of stockholders of the steel corporation a week ago, Mr. Gary said, have been misunderstood. "I have never entertained, nor do I now entertain the opinion that there should be no restriction in regard to the immigration laws," he said. On the contrary, I believe there should be restrictions. I do not think our immigration laws should permit immigration that could reasonably be construed as inimical to domestic labor of any kind, to our government or to the public welfare."

Simple—Costs Nothing

We will remove your present piano and give you a credit voucher allowing a liberal valuation for it. When you are settled in your new home you may come in and select a new instrument. The voucher may be applied against the purchase. Thus for only a comparatively small investment you obtain a new piano.

Write or Phone Today

Clip out the memo shown above, mail it to us and we will send a man to your home. He will furnish you a free estimate of the valuation of your instrument. Then, when you are ready to move, we will send our own expert men to your home to remove the piano. This is the most attractive way of solving your moving problem when you consider that you can also add to the joys of your home.

Something of the Choice of New Instruments

Among the grand pianos a most comprehensive display of the world famous Steinway is daily attracting musicians and shoppers. It is priced at $1425 and up. The Lyon and Healy Apartment Grand at $900 is also exhibited in a number of models. Other brands which merit your attention are the Leland and the Brambach Baby Grand. In player pianos, such well known makes as the Aeolian and the Lyon & Healy insure a tone and workmanship of a superior kind. Both of these pianos are shown in a variety of models. They contain recent improvements, are easy to pedal, and they play all standard rolls.

The display of upright pianos is a most attractive one. It includes the Steinway, the Lyon & Healy, the Washburn, and many others. The Washburn, priced at $350, is a special value. It is known throughout the world for its durability and beauty of tone. Artists are enthusiastic over it and it is the logical answer for one who is not yet ready to invest a larger sum in a piano.

REDS CITE FIGHT ON LANDIS PLAN TO THEIR CREDIT

Read Radical Reports at Ruthenberg Trial.

[By a Staff Correspondent.]
St. Joseph, Mich., April 23.—[Special.]—The Chicago Federation of Labor fight against the Landis award and the failure of Frank Farrington to negotiate separate wage agreements for Illinois coal diggers during the recent mine strike were cited at the Ruthenberg trial today as two great achievements of the Reds in America, the state revealed today in its trial of C. E. Ruthenberg, charged with criminal syndicalism.

The revelation came through the presentation of numerous documents seized by federal secret service men when they raided the sand dunes sessions, arresting many of the leaders of communism in this country. The documents showed that the Red chiefs in reporting to their followers had claimed full credit for documents issued in Chicago by John Fitzpatrick and E. N. Nockels, president and secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

Read from Reports.

In the government copy of the communist executive committee report to the convention is this paragraph: "In the present miners' strike our members are playing an increasingly effective role. Our model in the miners' union are particularly strong in district seven (the Illinois district headed by Farrington). In this district when Frank Farrington attempted to line up the miners in his constituency our model called seventeen mass meetings and organized so effective a demonstration against this that he immediately withdrew his statement in favor of separate agreement."

Farrington, when he took up the separate agreement plan at a St. Louis meeting of his executive board, announced that he had abandoned it because of sentiment created by incorrect reports in newspapers.

Further on the report says: "In many central labor bodies our members are increasing their influence. This is particularly true in district five (the Chicago district) where our members are especially strong. See exhibit twenty-four for full report."

Pictures Home as Trench.
Exhibit twenty-four consists of two printed pamphlets signed by Fitzpatrick and Nockels and containing statements that they were "published by the Chicago Federation of Labor." One is headed "War has been declared!" in half inch high bold face type. It says:

"A terrible battle is raging all over the world. In spite of the fact that peace has been declared there are many dying and hungry every home has been turned into a trench and every hamlet and city is a battlefield. "It is true that the enemy is no longer fighting and killing us with powder and poison gas. They are fighting with hunger and starvation through the agency of a shutdown industry. ## EUROPEAN CROESUS TO PUT MONTE CARLO ON BUSINESS BASIS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
PARIS, April 23.—Sir Basil Zaharoff, the new owner of Monte Carlo, today started to turn the casino upside down, shaking out the non-essential employees.

He took over the management of Monte Carlo when Prince Louis, the new ruler of Monaco, asked for a share of the profits in addition to the 2,000,000 francs the reigning houses receive annually from the casino's concessions.

It was discovered that the casino was almost bankrupt. Every cent of the huge profits had been distributed during the war, and there were barely any profits left. The company has been swindled by its high officials, one of whom ended his life last week. At the request of Prince Louis, M. Zaharoff invested $5,000,000 in the company, which have given him control of it, and he is now putting it on an efficiency basis.

Landis Award Attacked.
The other document claimed as one of the communists' achievements, attacks the Landis award and its sponsors and ends with: "We must consolidate and solidify our ranks. The lack of spontaneous solidarity has been our greatest weakness. We must unite in all our fighting forces without regard to race, creed, color or trade differences except the challenge of the powers that be."

It also is signed by Fitzpatrick and Nockels.
Francis Morrow was the chief witness today. As government agent K-97 he joined the communists in Philadelphia and attended the Bridgeman convention as delegate. His story was merely started today and probably will take two more days.

SPOOKS SPOOF, MIMI MIMICS TUT TIME TALES

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PARIS, April 23.—An Egyptian spook who doubled as a court lady in King Tut's time was trotted out in a Paris courtroom today when a suit was brought against Mimi Stefanesco, a medium, and the daughter of a rich Bucharest banker.

Mimi is a famous medium in Bucharest and besides she has literary talents. In 1918 she had a visitation from Egyptian spooks. Calling together the elite of Roumanian society, including the premier, she gave seances in which she translated from the Egyptian. Every word was taken down stenographically and the Mimi-grams were sensations in Roumania.

The Talkative Spooks.
Her spooks narrated a connected story of romantic events in the court of King Amenophis IV.

The story was published in book form and enjoyed national fame. Roumanian society was stirred up last month when "Queen Tala," an Egyptian romance by Maurice De-waleffe, appeared at the bookstalls in French. A protest was worked up which was signed by many of the most important people in Roumania, including Queen Marie, and was published in all the Parisian literary magazines. Now comes M. De-waleffe, who asserts that "Queen Tala" was first published in 1905 and was republished last month on account of the Carnarvon vogue.

Sues for Libel.
The French author is suing Mile. Stefanesco for 1,000,000 francs libel, asserting that the fair Mimi is only an imposter.

The Bucharest millionaire has hired lawyers to show that his daughter is an authentic mouthpiece of ancient Egypt. The author has engaged M. Glatfelter, Landru's lawyer.

FRENCH PREVENT LEAGUE INQUIRY ON RULE OF SAAR

Insist Curb on Germans Is Necessary.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
GENEVA, April 22.—France smashed the Anglo-Swedish attempt to have the league of nations investigate the Saar basin administration at a secret meeting of the council today. Six other nations lined up solidly behind M. Hanotaux, French delegate, in laying down an ultimatum that the French government would not tolerate any intrusion by the league into the administration and control of the Saar, formerly one of Germany's chief coal sources. Although the region technically was placed under the jurisdiction of the league of nations by the treaty of Versailles, a duly appointed league commission with a Frenchman as chairman is responsible for its direction, M. Hanotaux said.

M. Hanotaux refused permission to the league to pry into the "temporary measures" which have been put into effect in the Saar as a result of the action of Germany there in sympathy with their countrymen.

British Back Sweden.
Edward Wood, British delegate, backed up Mr. Branting, the delegate of the Swedish government which originally demanded that the council take up the complaints of the Saar population against the coercive measures in force there.

M. Rault, the French chairman of the Saar commission, explained that since the occupation of the Ruhr much trouble had been fomented by agents of the German government in the Saar district, adding that it was extremely difficult for the small government maintained there to keep order. There are no longer any labor troubles, he said, but political disturbances continue.

Mr. Branting said he was entirely dissatisfied with M. Rault's explanation and demanded that the Saar commission should immediately repeal its ordinance establishing a curfew, censorship of newspapers, and limitation of free speech. He said it was unheard of that a league commission should pass such an ordinance.

Mr. Wood supported Mr. Branting and both abstained from balloting when the seven other delegates voted to shelve the motion to investigate the Saar administration.

World Court Rules Bother U. S.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, April 23.—(Tribune Radio.)—It is reported in league of nations circles here that while the feeling in favor of American participation in the international court of justice at the Hague is daily gaining ground in Washington, there are serious technical difficulties that will have to be considered and overcome. In these, the league, it is understood, would be willing to meet the United States half way. One difficulty, it is said, is the right, or rather the claim, of the league council to allow or disallow a nation to face the court in many disputes as, for instance, that between Poland and Lithuania over Vilna. This is said to be regarded by Americans as a material obstacle because the council is purely a diplomatic body, some of whose activities have not impressed American opinion as being free from political bias, and also because America is not a member of the league.

LODGE PLANS TO 'CALL PRESIDENT DOWN' ON COURT

Washington, D. C., April 23.—(Special.)—Concern over the growing dissension in the Republican party over the world court resulted in a conference today between Senator Lodge (Rep., Mass.), majority leader in the senate and chairman of the foreign relations committee; Senator Brandegee (Rep., Conn.), an "irreconcilable" leader; and Senator Watson (Rep., Ind.).

The principal outcome of the conference was a decision to have Senator Lodge arrange to see President Harding Wednesday and frankly present to him the outlook for bitter controversy ahead.

It is understood that Senator Lodge will undertake to emphasize the warnings already uttered of splitting the Republican party wide open if the world court is pressed and the danger of this particularly in view of the approaching national campaign. Furthermore, he probably will take occasion to point out to the President the difficulty of bringing the protocol to a vote in the face of the bitter contest which the irreconcilables are getting ready to wage. He is also expected to inform the President that the reservations suggested by Secretary of State Hughes do not adequately meet the objections of the opposition, particularly in the matter of the election of the judges, in which the British voting strength would greatly outweigh that of the United States.

Senator Robinson (Dem., Ark.), slated to succeed Senator Underwood (Dem., Ala.) as leader of the senate Democrats, issued a statement predicting that many Democrats would support the world court plan.

COLLINS FORBID ENDURANCE HO CONTEST IS

'New Form of Riot,' C of Police Holds.

Acting under authority of a opinion which declares that dancing "is nothing more than a analysis than a new form of riot," Chief of Police Collins yesterday officially banter a torchbearer endurance test to take place at the Tribune building.

After the chief had announced that he would send police to prevent the exhibition, in which a group of fifty couples had entered the Tribune building, the Tribune called off the contest, saying the argument had no wish to run up to the municipal authorities.

"We were not particularly hostile over the exhibition," Mr. Collins told Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch, who approved the ruling on which the chief acted, thought, however, that Chicago is not behind other cities in such matters.

First Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Breen wrote the opinion which is the first local pronouncement on the legal status of such dancing.

After citing reports that such dancing in other cities have caused parties to collapse from sheer exhaustion, and in some cases have resulted in prolonged illness, the opinion states:

"A performance so riotous as to result in death or permanent health injury, in our opinion, is considered as at least a breach of the peace and disorderly conduct, if not a serious crime."

"We are of the opinion that the dance, as we are informed, being conducted, is, despite its name, by many so-called prominent persons, and in its ultimate aim, is a new form of the statutory 'riot'."

Dancing, Mr. Breen's reasoning states, is not necessarily an unlawful act, but when conducted in such manner as to result in death or injury of health, it is certainly deemed "in a violent manner."

DANCE OVER 100 HOURS

The couple had been taken to the police station at midnight Saturday to circumvent the Sunday anti-dancing regulation in effect here. They disappeared suddenly at midnight, but were arrested at 103 hours, and when they appeared here during the forenoon they declared they had shifted performance without a break.

COLLINS FORBIDS ENDURANCE HOP; CONTEST IS OFF

'New Form of Riot,' Chief of Police Holds.

Acting under authority of a legal opinion which declares that marathon dancing "is nothing else in its ultimate analysis than a new form of the statutory crime of riot," Chief of Police Collins yesterday officially banned the endurance hop, just advertised to take place at the Trianon this evening.

After the chief had announced that, if necessary, he would send police to prevent the exhibition, in which upwards of fifty couples had entered, Anne Karas, president of the Trianon, called off the contest, saying the management had no wish to run counter to the municipal authorities.

"We were not particularly enthusiastic over the exhibition ourselves," Mr. Karas told Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch, who approved the ruling on which the chief acted. "We thought, however, that Chicago should not be behind other cities in such matters."

First Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Breen wrote the opinion, which is the first local pronouncement on the legal status of such dancing.

After citing reports that such dances in other cities have caused participants to collapse from sheer exhaustion, and, in some cases, have resulted in prolonged illness, the opinion continues:

"A performance so riotous as to result in death or permanently ruined health must, in our opinion, be considered as at least a breach of the peace and disorderly conduct, if not a more serious crime."

"We are of the opinion that the marathon dance, as we are informed it is being conducted, is, despite its sanction by many so-called prominent people, nothing else, in its ultimate analysis, than a new form of the statutory crime of riot."

WAR IN CHINA

HONGKONG, April 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Victorious constitutional troops, supporting Sun Yat-sen, are driving the opposing Kwangsi forces before them toward Wuchow, apparently with little resistance being offered by the Kwangsi levies, whose triple attack was smashed to pieces last week before Canton. Today the Yunnanese, who form the nucleus of the constitutionalist army, occupied Shuihung on the West river, after the Kwangsi commander had evacuated the place. The constitutionalists also are advancing up the North river. Communications along the West river are returning to normal again and boats are operating once more between Hongkong and Wuchow.

every one is a stockholder and pays for his stock the average of from $10 to $12 a month as a share of the profits—plus the dividends on the stock this company helps him to carry. Many of them make a whole lot more than others. A lot depends on the man. But the above figures are average.

Isn't that a whole lot better than you are doing now?
Have you a future? These drivers of ours have. Every officer of this company from the

POLITICS, NOT ROADS, SMALL'S OBJECT, CLAIM

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Political fences rather than necessary county roads will be built with the $150,000,000 which Gov. Small is asking the state to vote in a new highway bond issue and interest, according to the Citizens' Association of Chicago, the oldest civic reform organization in America.

In a bulletin to be issued today, the association's board of directors declares itself entirely opposed to the bond proposal and brands it a "political weapon," a scheme for financing purely local stretches of road at the expense of a few counties of the state and an economic mistake which must eventually be paid for by added general taxation. It adds that "a democratic method in seeking the power and continuance in office has always been to promise the people something for nothing, and this appears to be the main idea underlying the $150,000,000 bond issue plan."

Bond Issues Real Plan.
"After careful investigation," the bulletin says in part, "we regard the proposed bond issue as wholly unnecessary and we believe that the real purpose of the plan is the building of political fences rather than county roads. There is no reason to expect that a state administration which has shamelessly manipulated the state's present building program for political purposes will be any more scrupulous in its treatment of the great additional burden it now seeks."

More than 50 per cent of the $150,000,000 received by the state last year in automobile license fees was paid by nineteen counties. It has been pointed out that each of these counties is receiving less in mileage under the present bond issue system than it contributes in motor fees to pay for road building. As a second bond issue would merely supplement the present system of state arteries, its benefits would be more distinctly local and so would yield even smaller returns to those counties that bear the main financial burden of road construction.

Same Tactics Used.
"The state administration seems to be using the same tactics to put over its new bond plan it used last year in the legislative campaign, when the people of certain districts were told they could get their roads built by electing legislators who would stand by the governor. Downstate legislators who are being imported now by some of their constituents to fall in line for the plan, in order that their communities may get additional roads built by the state when those roads are not matters of state wide concern, should preserve their self respect by refusing to burden the state with the cost of road building which should be financed by the various localities."

RIVALRY BRINGS MERGER OF FIVE GROCERS' BODIES

Competition of the chain grocery system in Chicago has forced the five large grocers and butchers' associations to consolidate and form the Retail Grocers and Butchers' Association of Cook county, Alex. T. Dillon, secretary of the new association, announced last night.

The associations consolidated are: South Side Grocers and Butchers' association, Uptown Retail Food, Dispensers, North Shore Grocers and Butchers' association, Retail Grocers and Butchers' Protective Association of Chicago, and West Side Grocers and Butchers' association. These five organizations represented approximately 3,700 retail grocery stores and butcher shops in the city.

CADILLAC

This tribute was written by an English motor car expert for "The Motor," English national motor magazine, after an exhaustive tour of American automobile manufacturing.

"Perhaps one of the most impressive plants I had the privilege of inspecting was that of the Cadillac. I was very much interested to note the great amount of hand work employed in the construction of this car.

"At the time of my visit, no fewer than 400 men were employed solely on inspection work. They have full authority, backed up by the management, to 'turn down' or scrap whatever in their judgment should be so treated, thus insuring accuracy and careful workmanship.

"Accuracy is the motto posted up throughout this factory, and judging by the scrupulous care which is everywhere noticeable, this motto is lived up to.

"When it is considered what a high-class production the Cadillac car undoubtedly is, it is certainly remarkable that the company should be producing over 100 cars a day."

Opinions such as this, given voluntarily after careful investigation, add weight to the statement that Cadillac, produced in half its present volume, would cost a thousand dollars more.

J. BULL GLOOMY ON ARRIVAL OF
U. S. AMATEURS

MOLE-IN-ONE CLUB

PLAYING at the Evanston Community course in company with Professional James C. Fox and Jack Gardner, Edward C. Funnell, 7737 North Marshall avenue, made the thirteenth hole, 130 yards, in one.

LONDON, April 22.—[By the Associated Press.]—The vanguard of the American golfing expeditionary force of 1933—amateurs who have crossed the Atlantic to give the English players a chance at the Walker cup on their home grounds—arrived today.

They found the game's ancestral homeland most pessimistic regarding their chances for victory in the apocryphal TOLLEY, proaching battles with the amateurs, the first of which will take place at five past six today.

On Saturday a team of the leading men players was pitted against a team of women players in the annual competition between women and men at Stoke Poges.

Tolley was the star of the day by having scored with Miss Joyce Wethered, the women's champion, after giving her half a stroke.

As regards the Americans, Dr. W. L. H. Holden, the first round of the first round are as follows:
F. J. H. Holden, Philadelphia, meets J. R. Neville, San Francisco, meets J. R. Neville, San Francisco, meets J. R. Neville, San Francisco.

Hard Road for Johnston. In the opening half of the draw H. J. Johnston, St. Paul, meets H. J. Holden, and if he gets through the first round he will probably have to meet in the second a formidable opponent in the Californian, Douglas Grant, who enters from an English club.

Robert Gardner of Chicago should have little difficulty in disposing of D. D. Forrester of Woking in the first round. Jesse Sweetser should be given a hard match by E. Noel Layton.

Frederick Wethered of Chicago meets J. R. Neville, one of the discoveries of last year's championship.

MISS CUMMINGS ONLY AMERICAN IN BRITISH OPEN
LONDON, April 22.—[By the Associated Press.]—Miss Edith Cummings of Chicago is the only American among 128 entrants in the British ladies' open golf championship to be played at Burnham, the week of May 7 to 10, for which was made today.

Miss Joyce Wethered, the champion, will defend her title. Miss Cecil Leitch, for years the premier woman golfer of Great Britain, is not competing, as the hand she injured in America in 1921 still is troubling her.

NEW YORK, April 22.—[United Press.]—Salvatore Bazzano, the first victim of the United States, has sued Firpo for $50,000 as his share of the movie rights to that fight, for which both boxers together received less than $500.

Maxied, the scenario has proved a thriller and a big seller in South America since Firpo established a reputation.

Maxied claims he didn't know the movie was being taken and insists that as one of the principals he is entitled to $50,000 as his share of the profits.

Ordeman finished his training here yesterday and looked in fine trim. He said he will go after him from the first call, because he realizes he must pin Calza early to win. They will wrestle three falls.

In another bout of note, Jack Reynolds, who operated on the University of Indiana, and welterweight champion claimant, will tackle Walter Keegan of Buffalo in a three fall match.

LEONARD-SMITH BOUT TOPS TONIGHT'S CARD

Battling Harry Leonard of Philadelphia, who will trade punches for ten rounds with Harold Smith of the stockyards in what should be the feature bout of the Alliance boxing show at Dexter Park tonight, arrived in Chicago yesterday from Buffalo and gave a pleasing exhibition at the Arcade gym.

The easterner stopped Jimmy Murphy in the seventh round at St. Louis last night. Wednesday night (New York Photo.) and holds a referee's decision over Frankie Cotton, the present flyweight champion.

Smith finished training at Ferretti's, but is keenly disappointed over not being able to meet Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, who was compelled to call off the match because of a broken rib.

Buck Montgomery, who handles Smith, notified the promoters Leonard must make 115 pounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon or there will be no fight.

Owing to an injury to Frankie Jerome's right hand, it was necessary to make a slight change in the card. Shorty Cotton of New Orleans, who was slated to meet Frankie Omer, has been substituted for Jerome and will step the eight rounds with Anderson, while Omer has been matched to meet John Sheppard of South Chicago.

Matching of Coulton and Anderson should result in another interesting mill. Eddie defeated Harold Smith a short time ago, while Coulton and Smith went ten rounds to about an even thing.

Mandell in Reappearance. Sammy Mandell of Rockford will make his first appearance since he lost to Joey Sangor of Milwaukee on a technical knockout in Minneapolis. Sammy will step eight rounds with Jimmie Lewis, the other bout between Frankie Leonard will take on Sammy Berne for eight rounds and Hillie Levine of New York and Charley Glazer of Chicago will open the show in an eight round encounter at 122 pounds.

Tickets are on sale at the Oakview theatre, 159 North Clark street; Kedzie Koffee Kup, 8231 West Madison street, and Davis Miller's cafe, 174 North Clark street. The box office at Dexter Park pavilion will be open at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

It developed yesterday that Milwaukee promoters are trying to take the proposed bout between Bonnie Leonard, lightweight champion, and Pinkie Mitchell to the Cream city. The match was closed by Jim Mullen, local promoter, for May 20, but Milwaukee promoters have not yet decided.

St. Louis, April 22.—In the twelfth game of the United States championship chess series here tonight, Frank Marshall, of New York, champion, exchanged queens early with the challenger, Edward Leasker of Chicago, and won a pawn on the twelfth move.

Fulton Has Johnson Nearly Out in Twelfth, but Loses

Jersey City, N. J., April 23.—[Special.]—Floyd Johnson, Iowa heavyweight, won the popular newspaper decision over Fred Fulton of Minnesota tonight in their twelve round bout staged by the Arena A. A. at the Fourth Regiment armory here, thereby earning the right to meet Jess Willard at the Yankee stadium on May 11.

Johnson won ten of the rounds, Fulton the eighth and twelfth. The fight, which was witnessed by a crowd of 4,500 spectators, was one of the most spectacular heavyweight bouts in the metropolitan district in years.

Johnson fought like a wild bull, rushing his opponent throughout the affair, relentlessly keeping on top of him and shooting rights and lefts at his jaw. It was only in this way that he knew he could hope to overcome the almost insurmountable advantage Fulton had over him in weight, height, and reach.

The Minnesota gladiator weighed in at 216 pounds and Johnson at 180. Last Round a Thriller. Johnson won ten of the rounds by his ceaseless rushing and hammering, refusing to let up for a minute in his attack and never giving Fulton a breathing spell.

Fulton's supporters were begging for a knockout and escape from defeat. Johnson's cohorts were pleading for him to hang on for another minute. The final clasp of the bell found the two men clinched, slugging at close quarters with the last bit of strength left in their weary arms.

Sammy Mandell of Rockford will make his first appearance since he lost to Joey Sangor of Milwaukee on a technical knockout in Minneapolis. Sammy will step eight rounds with Jimmie Lewis, the other bout between Frankie Leonard will take on Sammy Berne for eight rounds and Hillie Levine of New York and Charley Glazer of Chicago will open the show in an eight round encounter at 122 pounds.

Pal Moore Loses to Champ Genaro on Foul in Sixth

Frankie Genaro of New York, flyweight champion, won over Pal Moore of Chicago on a foul in the sixth round of the main bout of the boxing show conducted by Joe Coffey at the Coliseum last night.

Moore, who was the favorite, started the fight with a left hook, caught Genaro below the belt as he tried to counter with a left hook.

The little champion writhed in pain as he was helped to his corner. He was examined by physicians, who ascertained the blow was low, although Referee Eddie Fenech said the blow was high and wanted to give the fight to Genaro shortly after it landed.

Genaro took the fight to the local boy, Frankie had the better of the mill in this session. Honors were about even in the sixth round. Moore caused his men better and landed enough blows to even up the score at the end of the round.

At the top of the bell for the seventh round, Genaro rushed Moore to the ropes and pumped both hands into the mid-section. He followed up the advantage by hooking his left to the head and body. Near the end of the round Moore showed a flash but was not able to overcome the advantage won by Genaro earlier.

Hurt by Wild Swing. In the sixth round, Genaro was leading. He carried the fight to Moore for the first two minutes. The pair had just broken from a clinch when he started his jumping tactics and he went with a wild left swing. Genaro tried to counter with his left and made a series of jumps for Pal's head when Moore's blow landed low. There were fifty seconds yet to go in the round when Genaro was assisted by his corner.

Before the bout, Genaro and Manager Bernstein insisted that Moore wear his gloves when he hit. Bernstein contended it was Genaro's right to job his open gloves and hit with the open mitt. After a short argument Pal agreed to do the best he could. Genaro's weight was announced as 125 pounds and Moore 115½ pounds.

Mike Dundee Beats Chaney. In the semi-windup, Mike Dundee of Rock Island won over Andy Chaney of Baltimore. In the fifth round Dundee sent the Baltimore lad to the canvas for the first time.

Cheney made a great finish and won the last three rounds, but he was unable to overcome the advantage scored by Mike in earlier sessions. Including the clean knockout, the first two rounds were even, while Dundee took the third, fourth, and fifth, while there was little to choose between them in the sixth and seventh.

At the top of the bell for the seventh round, Genaro rushed Moore to the ropes and pumped both hands into the mid-section. He followed up the advantage by hooking his left to the head and body. Near the end of the round Moore showed a flash but was not able to overcome the advantage won by Genaro earlier.

Washington, D. C., April 22.—A silver statue representing Ray Schalk of the Chicago White Sox, and Genaro Sisler of the St. Louis Browns, in recognition of their services to the American League, was presented to President Obregon of Mexico today by B. B. Johnson, president of the American League.

The newly appointed postmaster of the District of Columbia, William M. Mooney, himself famous as an athlete, made the presentation on behalf of Mr. Johnson. The Mexican chargé d'affaires, Señor Manuel C. Teller, accepted the gift. The offering was made in appreciation of the facilities extended to Mr. Johnson during his recent visit to Mexico.

ST. IGNATIUS WINS. St. Ignatius collected its second consecutive Catholic victory by upsetting Chicago, 9 to 3, in the winner's round today. The game was featured by the stellar pitching of Farrell, who allowed but three scattered hits, and the brilliant fielding of the Vindicator nine. Chaney, star first baseman, handled 16 chances and made two hits. McGinnis led the attack with three blows in four trips. Score: St. Ignatius, 9; Chicago, 3.

TOUGH Foe FOR RICHIE. Milwaukee, Wis., April 23.—Richie Mitchell, Milwaukee, and Willie Jackson, New York, have been slated to box ten rounds here April 30. The weight will be 135 pounds.

LANDIS OFF FOR EAST TO CARRY ON BATTLE AGAINST BALL POOLS

BY HUGH FULLERTON. COMMISSIONER KENEBAW LANDIS will leave Chicago today for another tour of the world's series emblems at the Olympic stadium. The next day he will go to Waterbury, Conn., to inaugurate the Connecticut State league season.

Commissioner Landis will continue his fight against gambling pools during this trip and seek the aid and cooperation of all who are interested in the sport.

Assurances of assistance have been sent from several cities and the campaign is spreading rapidly.

The head of baseball wants the facts concerning the wholesale robbery of the small bettors exposed, and he wants the publishers of tables showing the runs made by each team stopped as far as possible.

STOCKS KEEP UP
DESULTORY PACE
TO MORE DECLINE

YESTERDAY'S AVERAGES

The New York Times.

New York, April 23.—In the uncertain and irregular decline of the stock market merely continued the somewhat desultory reaction of the last few days, a movement which presumably reflected the mood of the speculative community when prices had failed to rise in accordance with recent expectations.

judging by today's Wall Street talk, y might again have been supposed that the financial outlook depended on the price of oil. Probably, however, the Wall Street imagination has been equally impressed by the fact that the rise in prices for other staple commodities has been visibly checked and that several of them have lost ground.

stock exchange, the continued advance in sugar's price attracted as much interest as the decline in oil. That advance showed the government's curious action of last week does not by any means prove that sugar is not too high; but it at least suggests how high prices cannot be corrected.

Foreign exchange was again irregular.
The franc advanced and French republic bonds went to new high figures for the year. The mark declined, losing the larger part of its recovery from the low point reached last Wednesday.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

WOOD, president of the American Woolen company, confirmed reports his company is negotiating for the purchase of S. States & Sons, Inc., of Webster, Mass., the largest independent woolen mills in the country.

BERLIN—Resident agents for United States department stores announce that French occupation of the Ruhr no longer is disturbing shipments for export. Complete abolition of government export control is expected.

LONDON—The English Cotton Growing company, aiming to make England independent of raw cotton supplies outside of the empire, has bought its way into the Kansas Cotton company, operating in partnership with planters and the government of Sudan.
A large increase of the Sudanese output is anticipated.

NEW YORK—George Jablow, chairman of the C. I. and S. Manufacturers' association, announced just before sailing for Europe that manufacturers are on the eve of a concerted movement to sell direct to retailers instead of working on order from jobbers.

PARIS—Hand made dress manufacturers, long a quantity export business, are unable to keep pace with the rush of United States goods. The cause is difficulty in obtaining the necessary French export licenses.

NEW YORK—Mainly owing to the improvement in cotton prices, the dry goods market showed a strong tendency today. This was reflected in the following print cloth prices: 40x40, 5.25 yard, which is now quoted at 100¢/yd., and the 45x72, 4.75 yard, 120¢/yd. Business was fair today.

Information in regard to this issue and the new company is given in a letter from Mr. J. W. Daniels, President of the Archer-Daniels Linseed Company, who will be president of the new company, copies of which may be obtained from the undersigned, and which he has summarized as follows:

Business and Management

The Archer-Daniels Linseed Company and the Midland Linseed Products Company started in business more than twenty years ago and have both grown steadily. The new company will take over the business and properties of the Archer-Daniels Linseed Company and will own all of the stock of The Toledo Seed and Oil Company and of the Dellwood Elevator Company, Inc., except directors' qualifying shares. It will at the same time become the owner of all of the plants of the Midland Linseed Products Company, which company, however, will retain the operation of those plants for its own account until July 1st next in order to liquidate its commitments. The new company will then have the largest capacity for linseed crushing in the world and will operate as a unit the adjacent mills of the Archer-Daniels Linseed Company and the Midland Linseed Products Company at Minneapolis, Toledo and Edgewater, New Jersey, as well as the plants at Chicago and Buffalo. Substantial economies are expected to follow the consolidation.

The new company will be managed by those who have been primarily responsible for the past success of the Archer-Daniels Linseed Company.

Sales and Profits

The net sales and net profits of the Archer-Daniels Linseed Company, The Toledo Seed and Oil Company, the Dellwood Elevator Company, Inc., and the Midland Linseed Products Company, before deducting Federal income and profits taxes paid but after giving effect to taxes at present rates, for the six years and six months ending March 31, 1923, as certified by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., Public Accountants, were as follows:

Fiscal period or year ending	Net sales	Net profits before deducting Federal income and profits taxes paid but after giving effect to taxes at present rates
1917	$31,775,938.87	$1,437,568.14
1918	41,042,245.92	731,262.31
1919	42,571,579.49	1,938,053.78
1920	58,580,758.96	2,817,313.80
1921	36,068,761.52	1,015,550.66
1922	30,513,016.17	1,043,954.01
Six months ending March 31, 1923	18,909,128.34	1,000,000.00

The average of these earnings for the last six years is in excess of three and three-quarters times the annual dividend requirement upon the issue of Preferred Stock, and the earnings for the last six months are at the rate of more than five and one-half times such dividend requirement.

Business for the past six months has been active and profitable as shown by earnings. Conditions surrounding the industry are most satisfactory. Demands for the products is very strong. Plants are booked to capacity for as far ahead as the company is willing to sell and a prosperous year seems assured.

Assets

The Balance Sheet of the new company as of March 31, 1923, certified by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., Public Accountants, after giving effect to the issue of its capital stock, shows tangible assets of $14,955,998.44, of which $7,407,054.66 are current assets, against current liabilities of $3,407,054.66. There is no funded debt.

Business and Management

The Archer-Daniels Linseed Company and the Midland Linseed Products Company started in business more than twenty years ago and have both grown steadily. The new company will take over the business and properties of the Archer-Daniels Linseed Company and will own all of the stock of The Toledo Seed and Oil Company and of the Dellwood Elevator Company, Inc., except directors' qualifying shares. It will at the same time become the owner of all of the plants of the Midland Linseed Products Company, which company, however, will retain the operation of those plants for its own account until July 1st next in order to liquidate its commitments. The new company will then have the largest capacity for linseed crushing in the world and will operate as a unit the adjacent mills of

CRUDE OIL PRICE CUT 100C; SUGAR AND COCOA RISE

BY O. A. MATHER.

Revision of prices in several basic commodities was the outstanding feature in yesterday's news. The most important change, although not unexpected, was a reduction of 10 cents a barrel in mid-continent crude oil by the principal refiners. Simultaneously, eastern refiners reduced the price of gasoline a cent a gallon.

The new prices for mid-continent crude oil range from $1.40 to $2.50 a barrel and the new prices for southern grades range from 80 cents to $2.50 a barrel, according to gravity test. The reduction is the first in the mid-continent fields and brings prices at the well back to the level prevailing on Feb. 15. The sixth and last consecutive advance in prices was made on Feb. 15 in addition of 10 cents then being made.

Sugar, Cotton and Steel Advance. Sugar and cotton prices swung upward, as well as some steel products. Despite the government's action against sugar exchange, Chicago raw sugar rose to the highest price this year. Eastern refiners paid 4 1/2 cents a pound and refiners were light. Refiners also advanced the price of fine granulated sugar 10 cents a pound. Cotton prices advanced considerably higher than sugar, close on reports of increased demand for cotton goods, heavy covering and favorable cable reports from abroad. The United States Steel corporation, through its subsidiary, the Illinois Steel company, advanced prices on bars, plates and shapes for future delivery. The Illinois Steel company followed the advance.

As for the general price situation, the tendency last week appears to have been reactionary. In a comprehensive list of wholesale commodity quotations compiled by Dun's Review there were thirty-three declines and twenty-four advances.

Railroads Had More Freight. Several news items of the day again emphasized the continued activity in business. During the first three months of this year the railroads carried more freight than in any corresponding period in their history. A total of 11,830,422 cars were loaded, an increase of 14 per cent over the 1922 period, according to the bureau of railway economics. March traffic totaled 4,582,162 cars, an increase of 12 per cent over March, 1922.

Automobile production set a new record in March. The department of commerce announced that in the first three months of the year the output of cars and trucks, an increase of 64,000 units over the previous high monthly record established last June.

The volume of bank clearings last week in twenty cities at $7,228,122,000 showed an increase of 7 per cent over the preceding week and a gain of 4.4 per cent over the corresponding week last year.

SALE OF MILEAGE BOOKS STOPPED BY INJUNCTION. Boston, Mass., April 23.—A permanent injunction restraining the Interstate Commerce Commission from carrying out its recent order providing for the sale of non-transferable and interchangeable mileage tickets at a 25 per cent price reduction was issued today in the Federal District Court. The injunction order was issued after a hearing on a petition for writ of habeas corpus and a writ of mandamus by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—Interstate Commerce Commission officials said today that the federal court order issued at Boston restraining the commission's proposed mileage book installation from going into effect would probably be appealed at once to the Supreme Court for a final decision.

HARDING CALLS WORLD COURT
G. O. P. PLEDGE

Puts Administration Firmly Behind It.

New York, April 24. (Special.) President Harding's salient reasons for calling the United States into the world court, as set forth in his speech...

America needs such a tribunal to decide justiciable controversies. Europe must be restored and America's membership in the court will insure it.

The court is a pledge of the Republican party. Joining it will not introduce the United States into the league of nations, nor involve it in foreign entanglements.

An American judge now sits in world court. It is not honorable for America to enjoy benefits of court's peace providing machinery without assuming responsibilities.

It will not split the Republican party. New York, April 24. President Harding today committed himself and his administration without equivocation to American membership in the permanent court of international justice.

Speaking at the annual luncheon of members of the Associated Press, Mr. Harding set forth the reasons which impelled him to recommend to the Senate the adoption of the United States to the world court proposed under the league of nations.

He outlined the advantages he believed would accrue from adoption of the recommendation, and presented for the first time answers to the arguments of opponents of the administration plan.

"Not Entrance to League." In doing so, the chief executive asserted his conviction that American membership in the court would be "in harmony with party platform pledges and national promises, and American aspirations." It would not be, and could never be construed as being an indirect entrance into the league of nations, he declared with emphasis.

The address, made before a thousand of the nation's leading newspaper editors and publishers, was generally considered as the beginning of the presidential campaign during the spring and summer of the principal policy to be pursued during the next year.

Political leaders throughout the country, admittedly in disagreement as to the wisdom of the world court recommendation, awaited with intense interest the address and tonight were waiting for the country's reaction. What the reception it might be accorded by the American people the President indicated clearly that he stood firmly behind his recommendation.

Morning Spent Quietly. Accompanied by Mrs. Harding and several high officials, he arrived in the metropolis shortly after 6 o'clock this morning. After breakfast on his special train, the party went to the Waldorf Astoria hotel. The morning was spent rather quietly in receiving calls.

Among them were H. H. Hays, former chairman, and Charles D. Hilles, New York member of the Republican national committee.

After the luncheon the President hurried out to the new Yankee stadium, where he saw New York defeat Washington. Before returning to Washington tonight he with Mrs. Harding attended the theater and then he visited the new plant of the New York Tribune.

Mr. Harding was given an enthusiastic welcome when he entered the ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria where the luncheon was held. American newspapermen greeted his introduction.

Frank B. Noyes, president of the Associated Press, "not only as the honored holder of a great position but as a fellow newspaper man of whom we are proud." All of the high praise in his address were applauded at its conclusion he received an ovation.

ROMANCE SPOILED. Katherine Louise Littman back in U. S. unwedded.

MR. HARDING'S ADDRESS Says Foes Have Willfully Confused World Court Issue.

The President's remarks follow: "Mr. President, members of the Associated Press, and guests: "During the closing days of the last year I sent to the Senate a communication asking its advice and consent to the adherence by the government of the United States to the permanent court of international justice."
